

Purposeful stories for children (4)

Be Brave

By: The Protected by Allah

In the Name of Allah

Be Brave

Purposeful stories for children (4)

By:

The Protected by Allah

At school, Zeno was playing with his friends, excited, but while he was running fast...

1

He hit the wall hard, and to his surprise, a piece of marble fell on his head.

2

Strangely, no one noticed what he had done, so he held his head and rushed away.

3

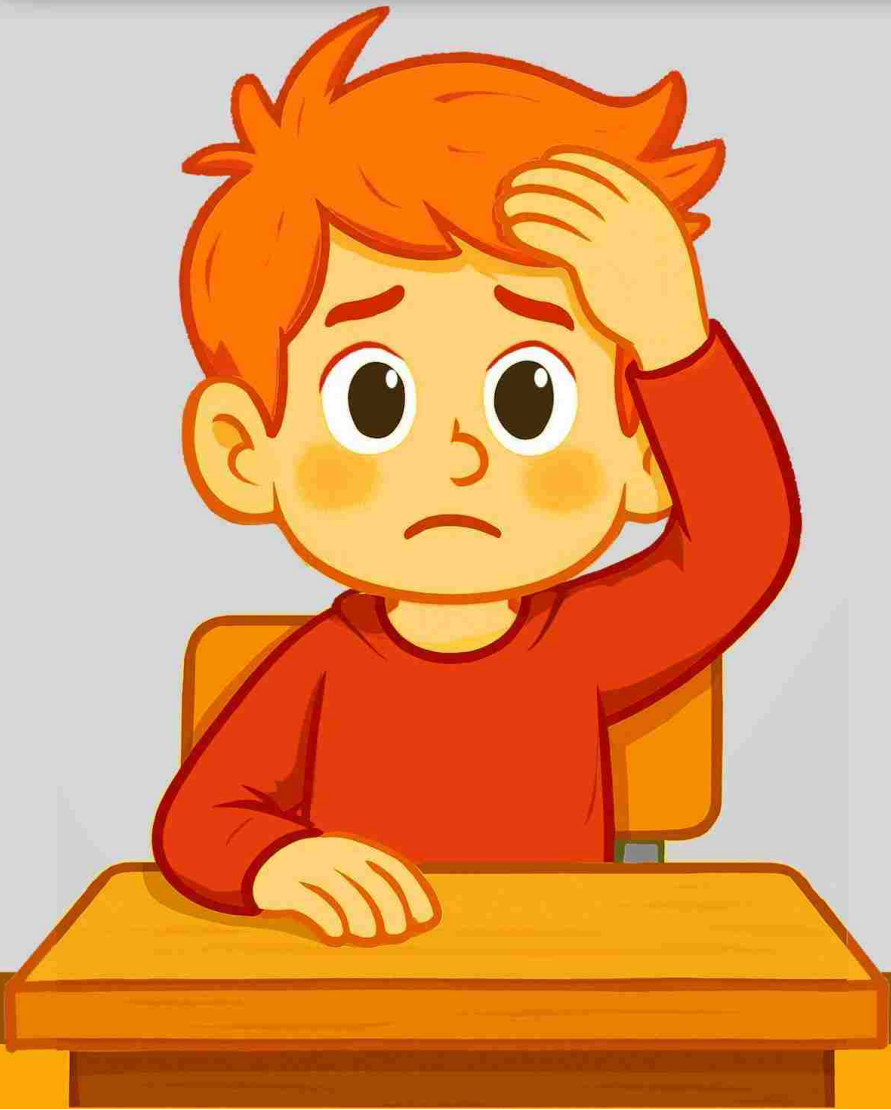

An hour later, the principal walked in and calmly questioned the class about the culprit.

4

Unaware, Zeno wiped his head, fearing stone dust were stuck to it.

5

The principal eyed him suspiciously, then said: 'Alright, no one speak; I know who did it.'

6

Zeno trembled and tried to shake his head without attracting attention.

7

The principal said:
"The doer bears the evidence for his action."

8

Zeno was confused, he pulled up his hoodie to cover his head.

9

The principal: "The evidence lies in the conscience of the doer, not in the head!"

10

If his heart was brave, he would face the matter and apologize like a strong man.”

11

Zeno stood up and stepped forward, saying, 'I am the strong man you are looking for, sir.'

12

I am deeply sorry for this unintended incident.'

13

With a smile, the principal said:
'Forget the wall; I cared about your head. Are you okay?'

14

Can you color this picture to make it look big and beautiful?

